A Distinguished Honor for Dr. Ayman Attia at the Queens Medical Society Annual Gala

Dr. Ayman Attia recently has received a Certificate of Recognition from Senator John C. Liu of the New York State Senate at The Medical Society of the County of Queens' 217th Annual Past Presidents' Gala, which took place on April 25, 2026. This certificate recognizes Dr. Attia's dedication to the medical community and his continued commitment to provide better services to patients.

This recognition shows his commitment to improving the overall health of patients and the positive influence he has to providing improved health care to the individuals he serves. He always stay updated on the latest medical knowledge, innovative treatment methods, and new health care techniques that can help patients get better. He has combined exceptional clinical skills with compassion, thereby fostering a better doctor-patient relationship and enhancing the ability for people to successfully manage many chronic illnesses. His dedication to forming strong bonds with his clients and offering personalized care makes him a respected figure in his community.

Receiving this award at a prominent gathering hosted by The Medical Society of the County of Queens is an excellent affirmation of his efforts and commitment to his profession. This honor truly reflects the effort he has put into providing top-notch healthcare and ensuring the well-being of his patients throughout the years. The Certificate of Recognition presented to him by Senator John C. Liu is not only a celebration of his professional success but also recognition of his dedication to achieving high standards in the practice of Internal Medicine. As he continues to care for his patients, this recognition serves as a tribute to the dedication, perseverance, and service that have characterized his medical journey.

The primary focus of Dr. Ayman Attia's medical practice is centered on preventive healthcare, managing chronic diseases, wellness counseling, and educating patients. He has a strong commitment to developing lasting relationships with his patients as well as providing personalized health care services, making him an established professional in the communities he serves.

This recognition is a significant milestone and demonstrates the high level of respect that he has developed throughout the medical community.

Professional Profiles & Additional Resources

- Healthgrades Ayman Attia Profile
- Yelp Ayman Attia Profile
- Ayman Attia - Medical Website